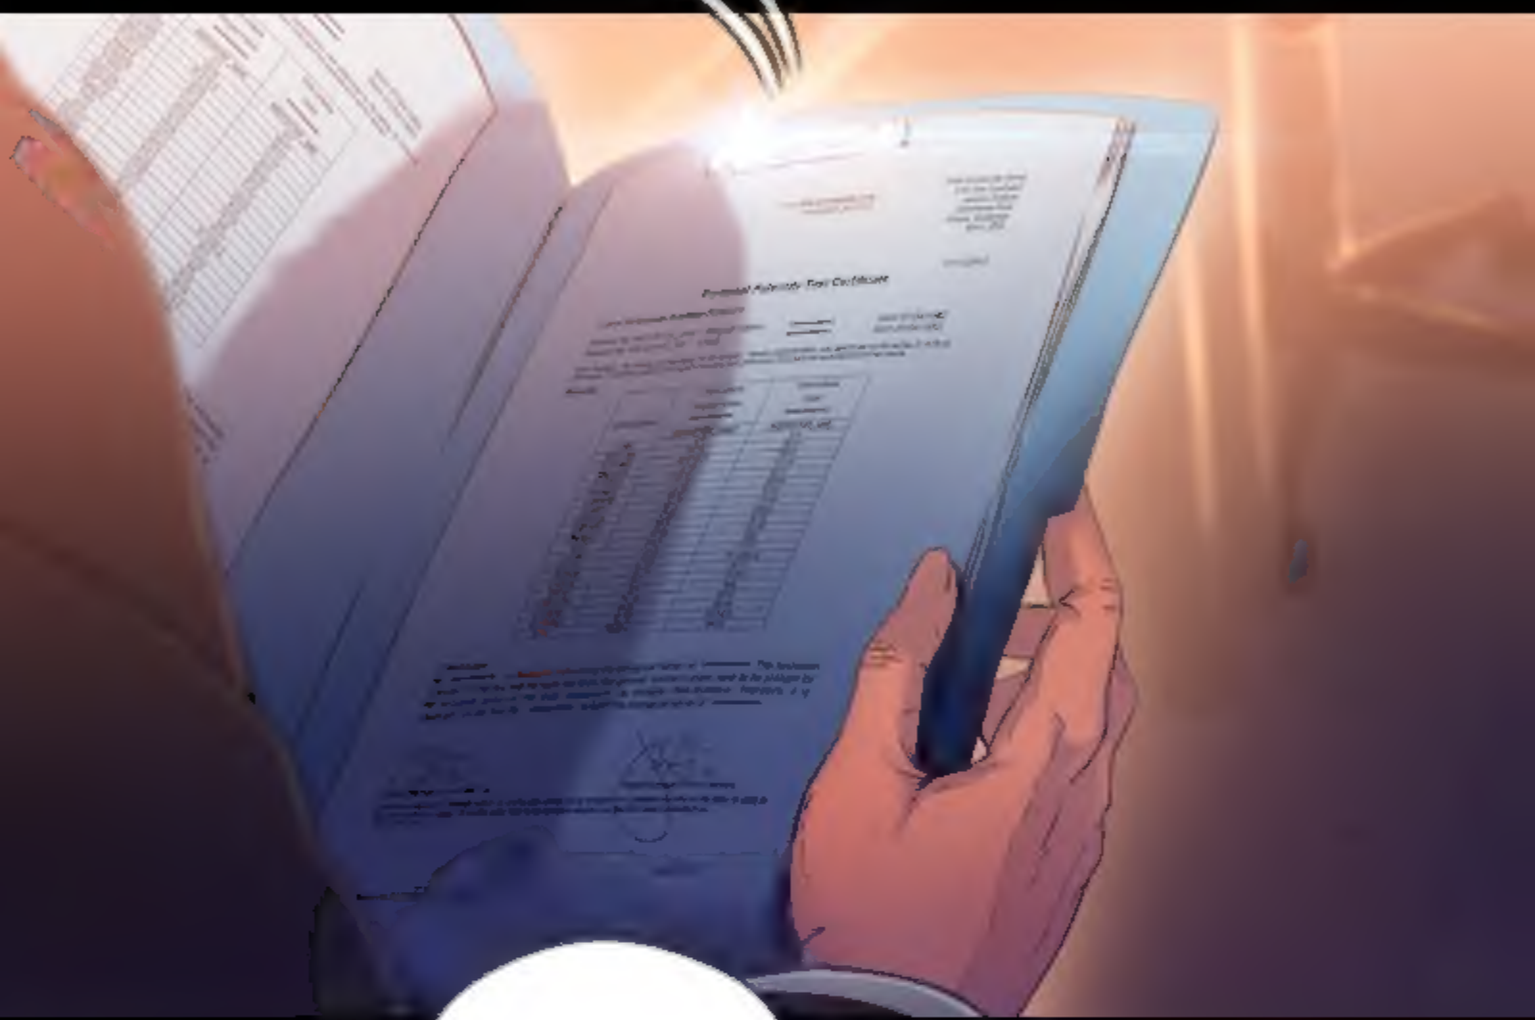
Past Chapter: Part III

We conducted the test three times however the results were all the same, Sir



...

Conclusion:

Mr. Nathan is excluded from being the biological father of Nathaniel.
The exclusion is based on the fact that he does not show the genetic marker which have to be present for the biological father of the child at multiple DNA-Systems. Therefore, it is practically proven that Mr. Nathan Greene is NOT the biological father of Nathaniel Koizumi.

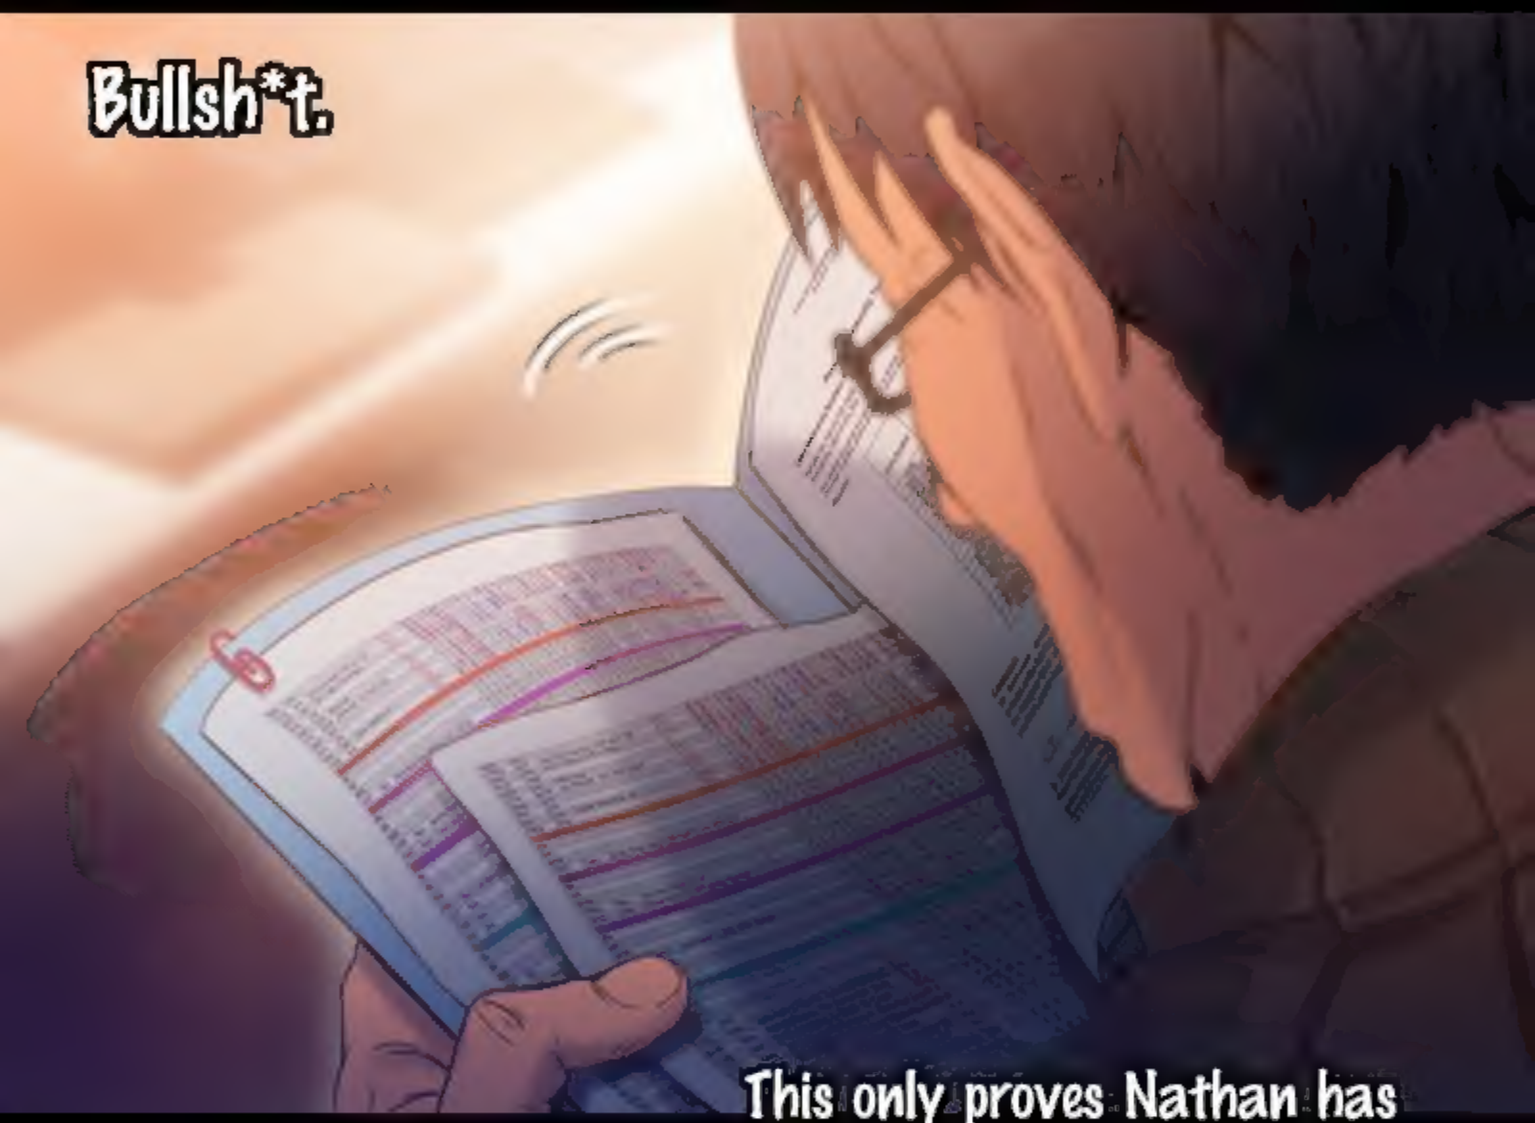
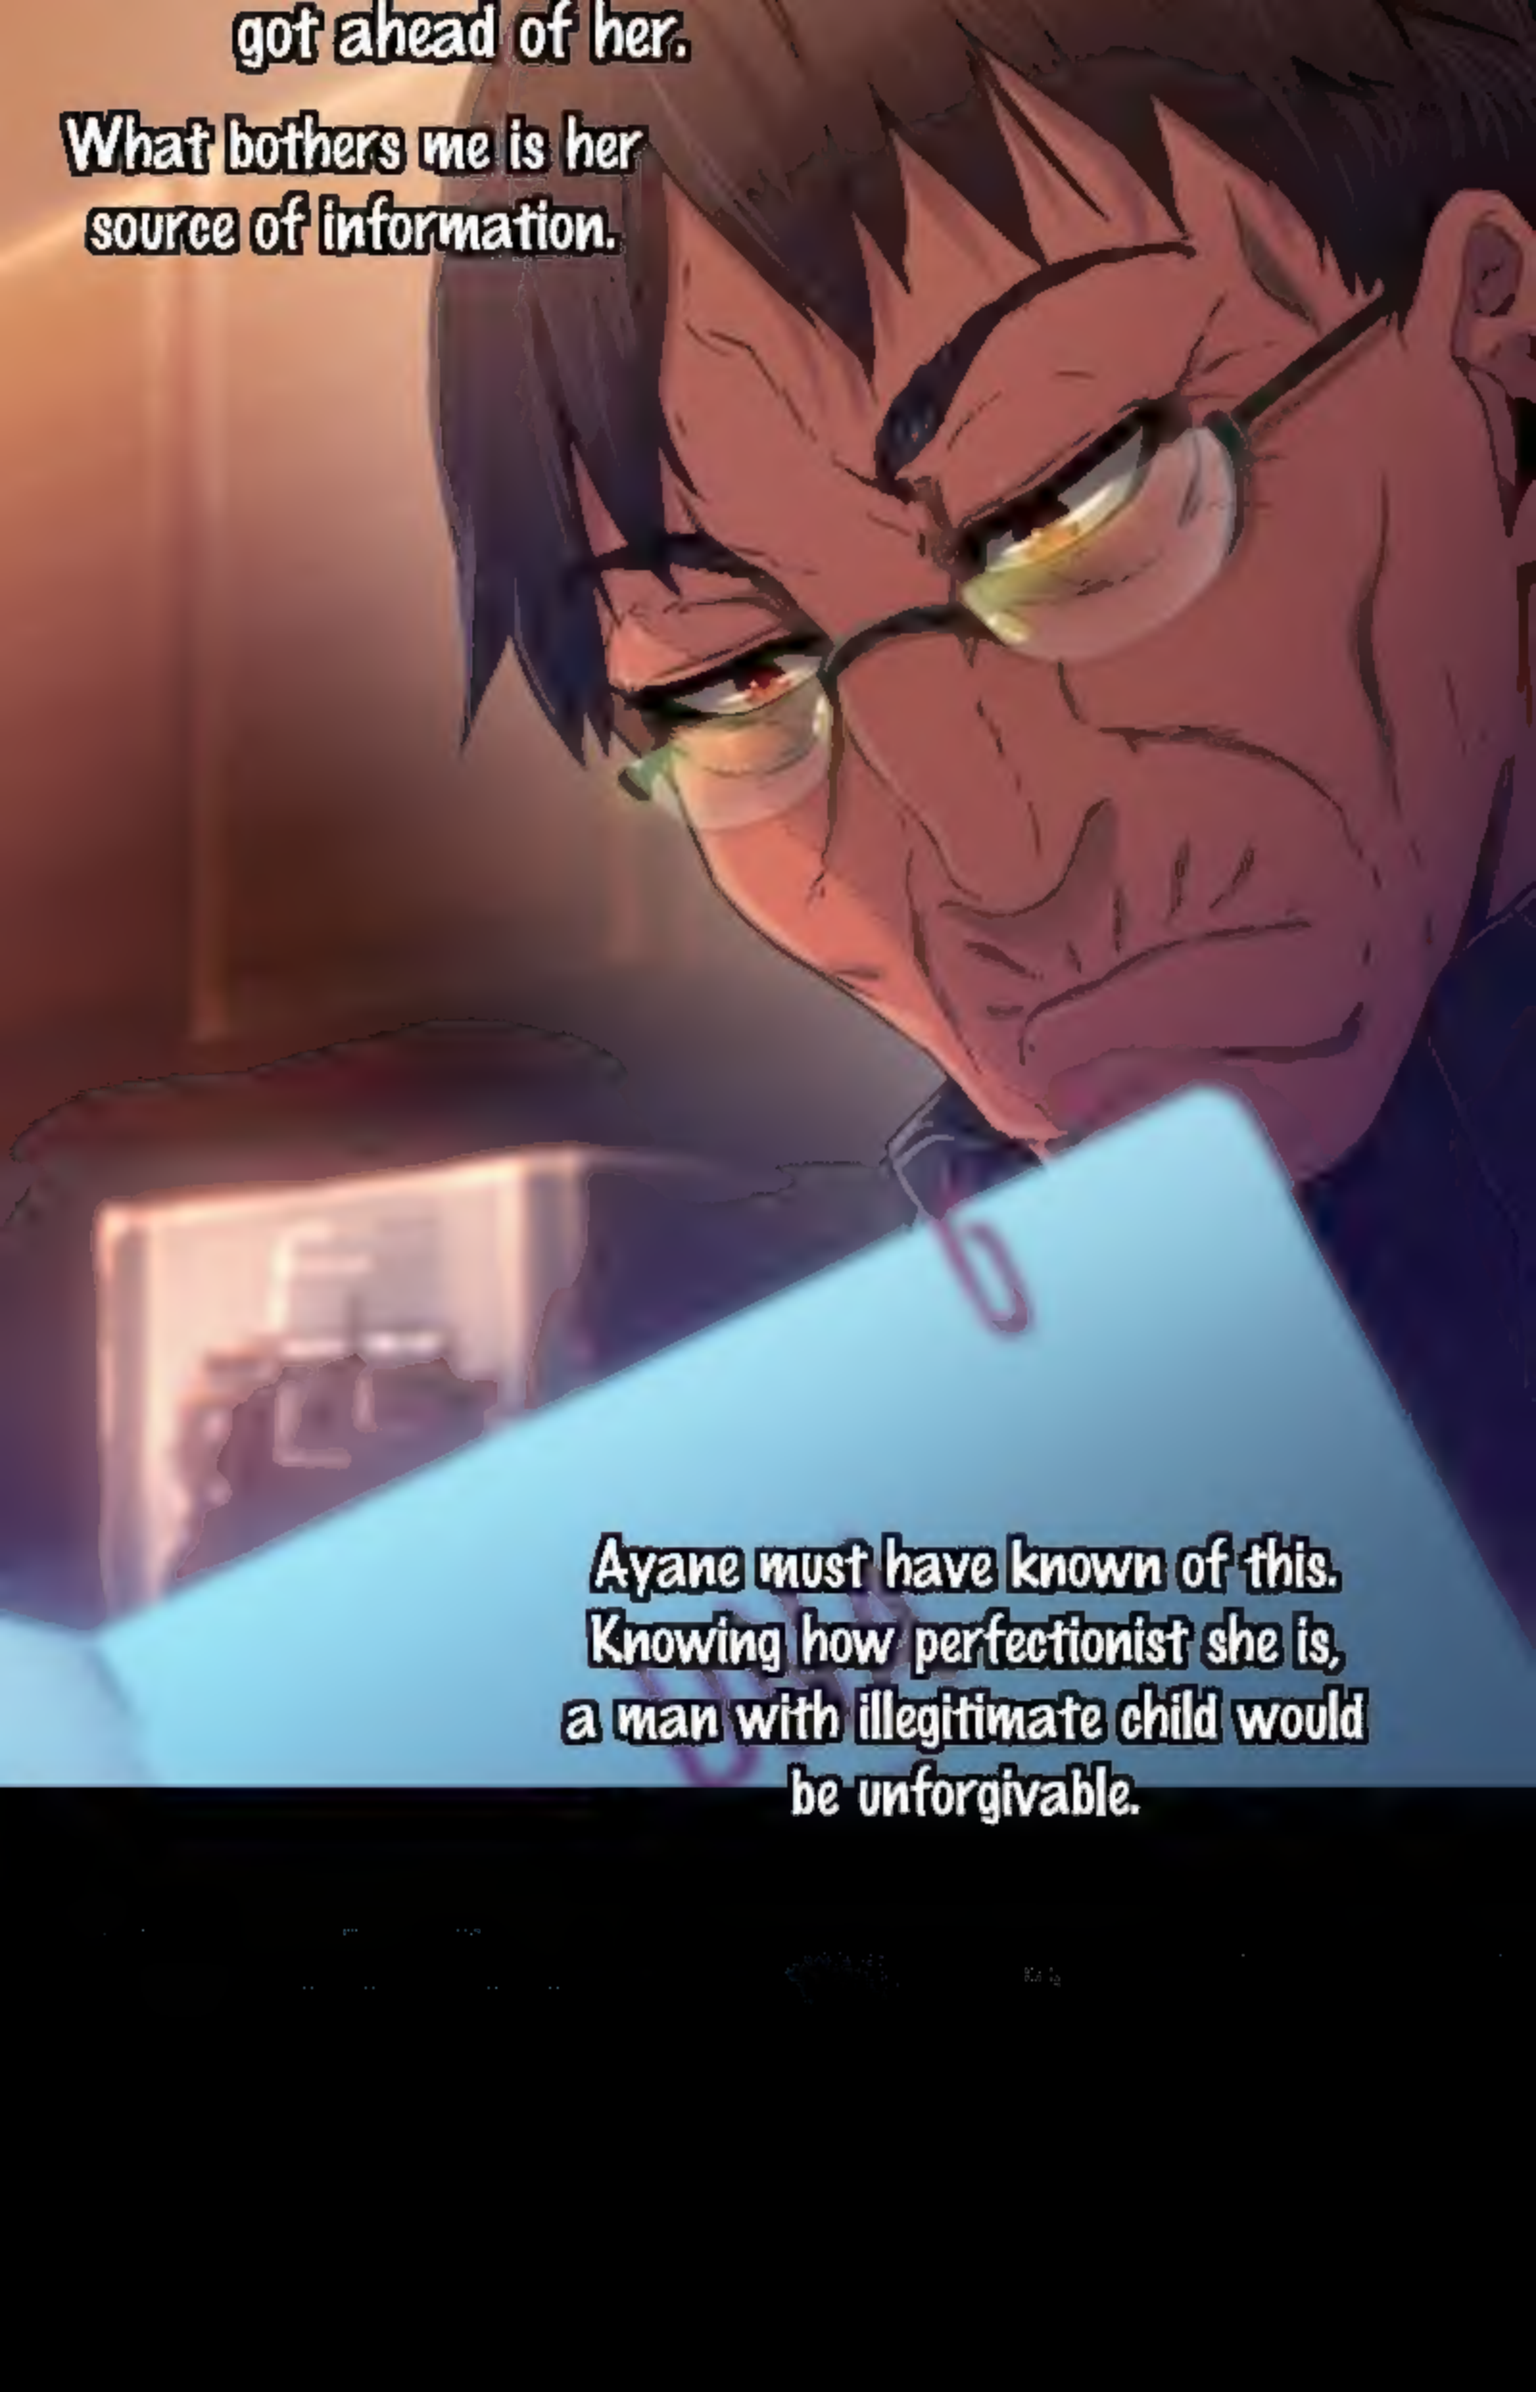
NOT MATCHED



Sumire may be brilliant but her emotions



got ahead of her.
What bothers me is her source of information.
Ayane must have known of this.
Knowing how perfectionist she is,
a man with illegitimate child would be unforgivable.

This plan is a failure..

..or not

Dr. Kumamoto..

Y-yes, Sir?

Modify this
DNA report.

Wh-..?
S-sir,
I-I can't possibly do that.
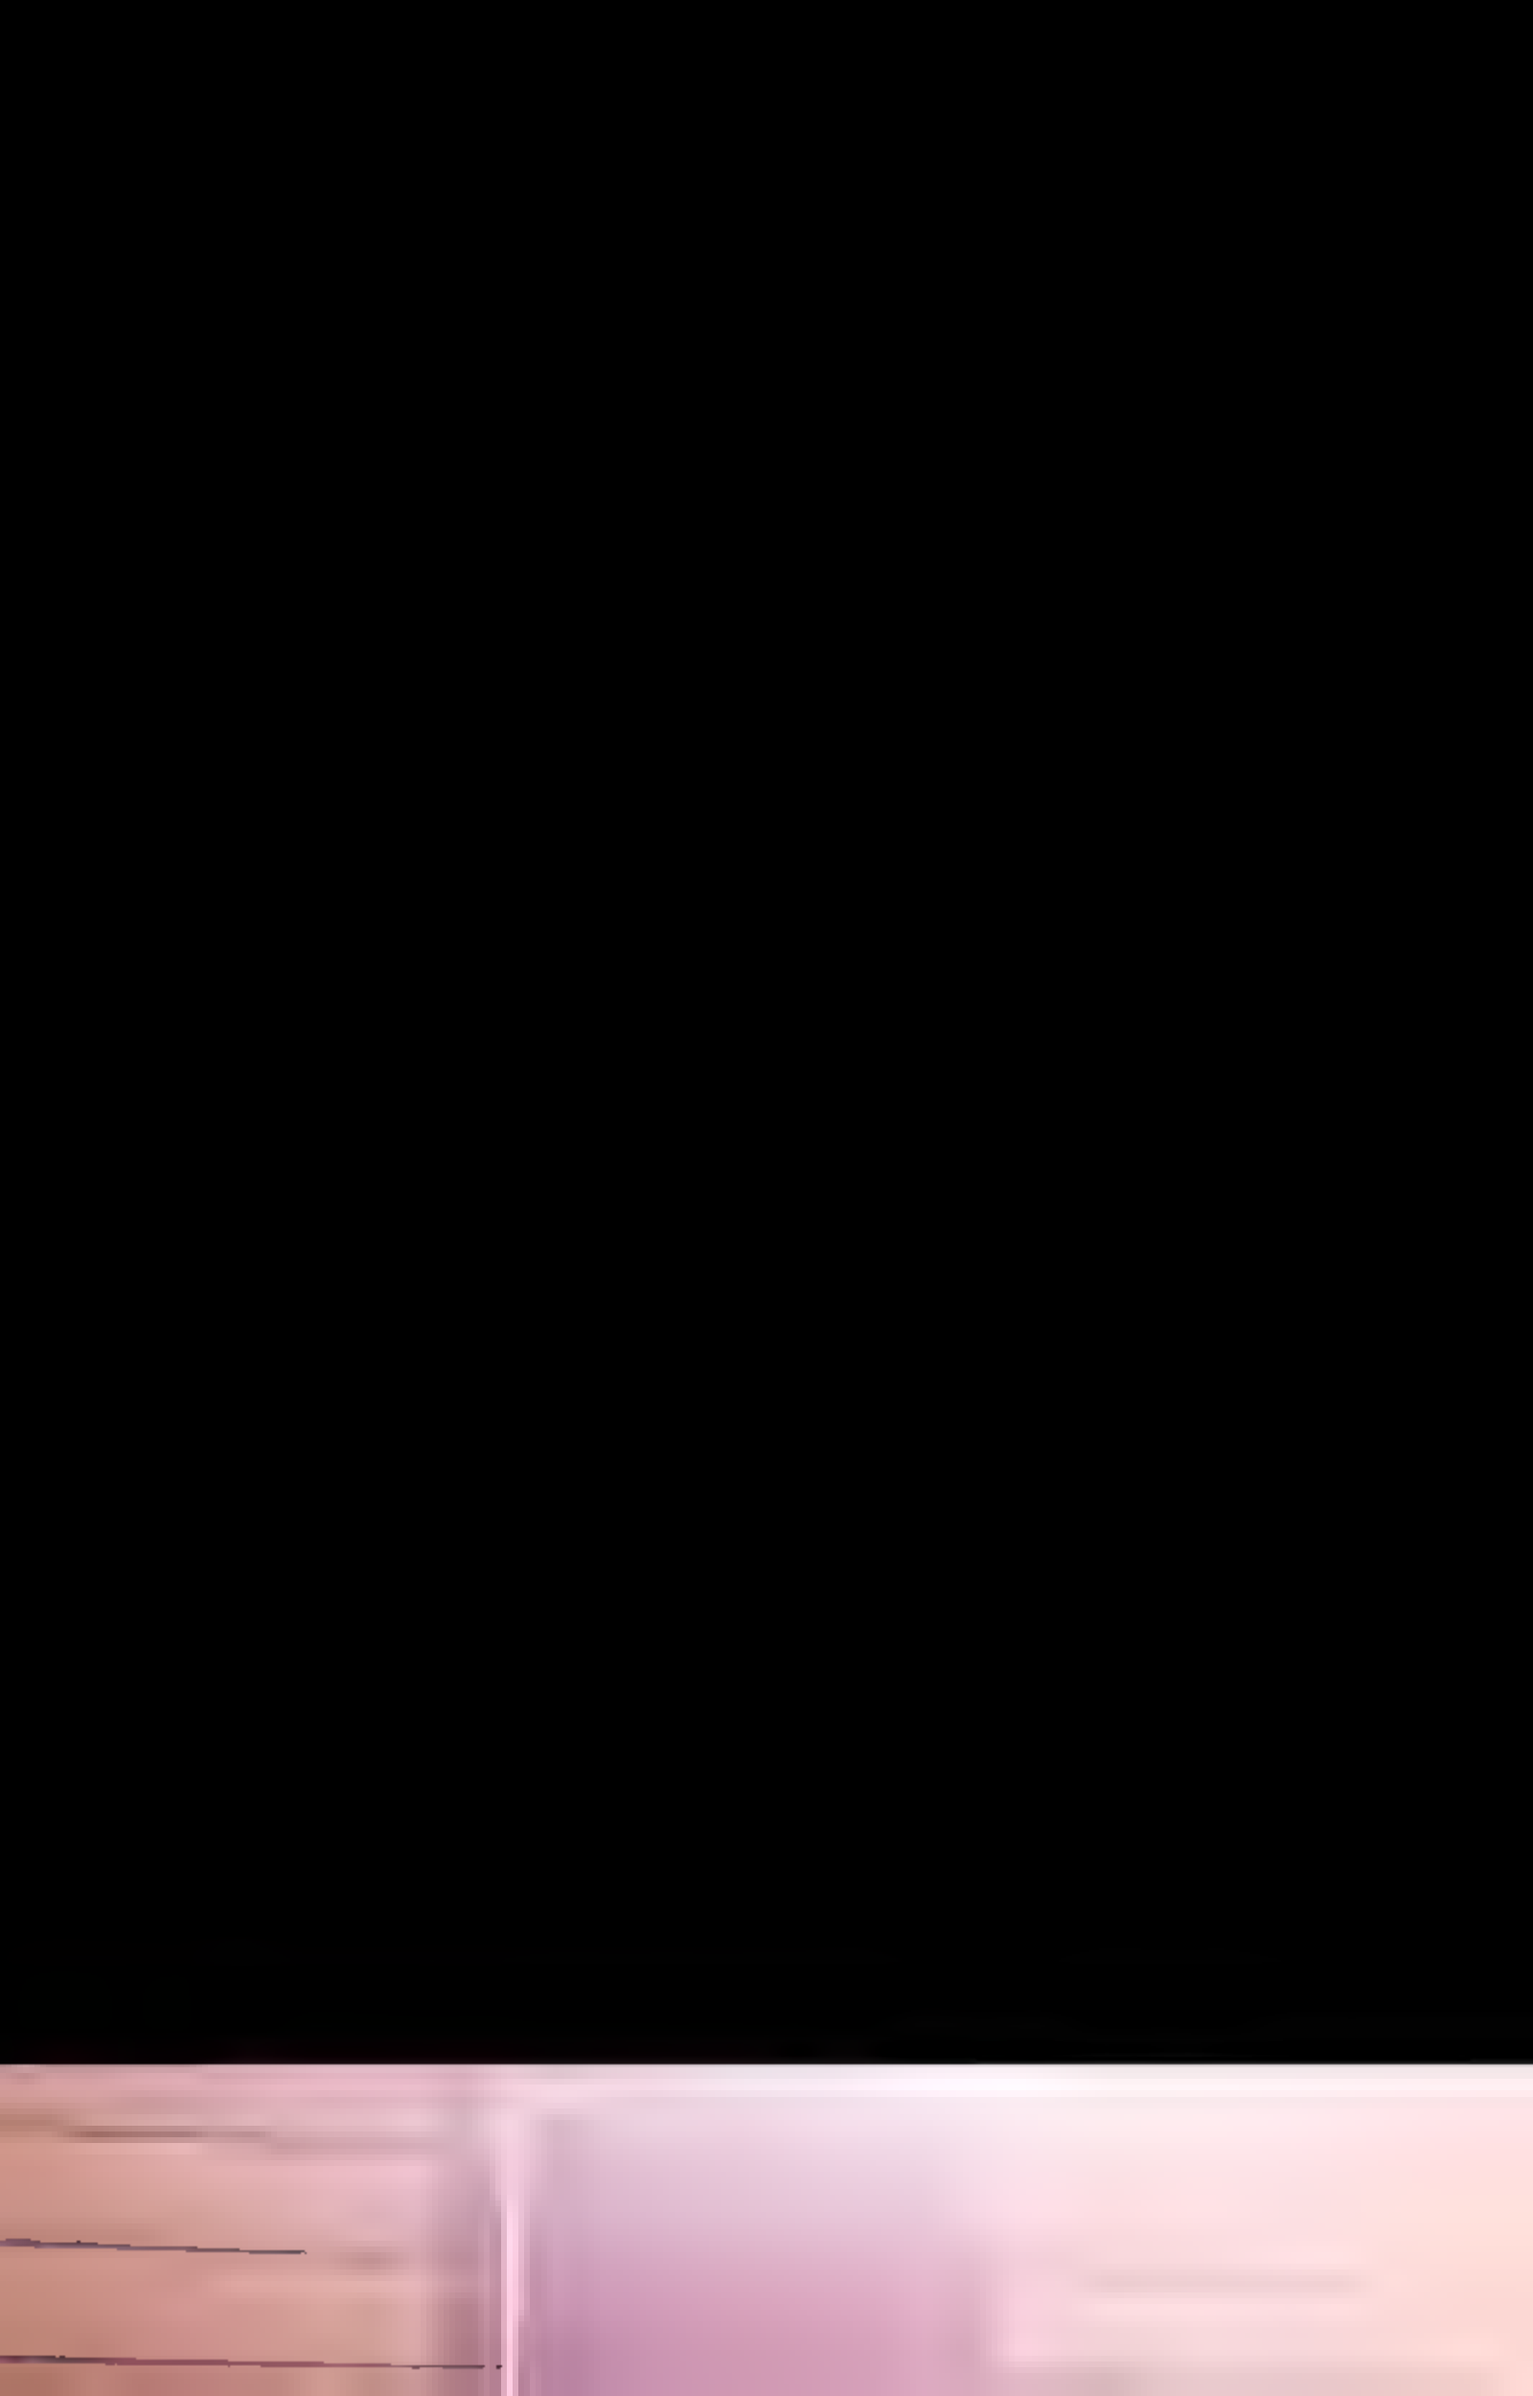
I will pay ten times the
original amount,
fair enough?

All you have to do is modify the DNA report.
B-but..
We Shimizu's do business clean & without trace. If your concern is your reputation, worry not. Your name is safe.

S-sir..
This might sound rude to you but our pride can't be bought by money, Sir.

We give our patients fair and clean results. I am sorry but-..
Dr. Kumamoto..

You have a family, don't you?



Sign: Shimizu-Greene

水
So tell me..
Have you met

Nathan before that?

How did you know the girl was cheating?

My relationship with Nathan isn't as romantic as you thought it was.
Yes, I was attracted to him but there was no love at first. We were both deeply wounded that time and we had Anya by mistake.
My feelings for him only grew as we got to know each other later on.

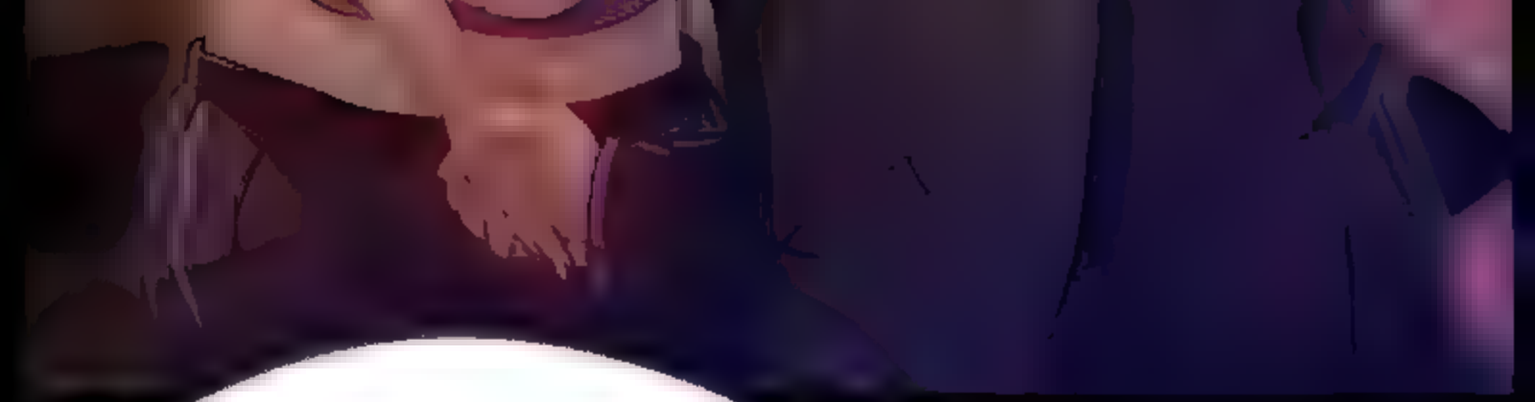
On the other hand, Koizumi was a friend of mine Back when I was in Highschool, we had this "no strings attached" relationship.

After graduation, we had our separate ways to fulfill our dreams.

I competed tournaments all over the world and after winning the four Major Tennis Events he personally came to congratulate me.



It was an awkward reunion for both of us but deep inside, I can't comprehend the happiness I felt.

During his stay in the United States, I hoped to have a "happy time" with him but then..

..I saw him do it with someone else.
She was Nathan's rumoured fiance
It was truly vexing.

I did not understand why I felt so much pain..
..perhaps, I started seeing him more than just a friend.

Three months later, the Battle of the Sexes came.
I took out my frustration and anger

inside the court.

But as I played Nathan,
my anger subsided
and felt so much fun instead.

He realized I was frustrated,
and made up excuses on giving up the...

"match"

Congratulations.

Are you okay?

There's something I want to tell you.

Meet me at Sherry Hotel

Axel is only 3 months older than Anya

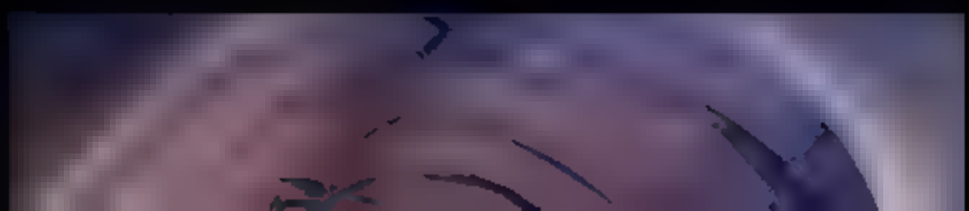
W-wow..
I think I understand now why you kept it a secret from us.
Enough with the cherry talk

Paris.

Ayane must know the truth.



Kenzou!
There has been a dispute between the Koizumi's and Shimizu's.

I was tasked to dispatch this woman Sara Miller..

..in addition to that, "someone" will bring him the DNA results and drive him insane

If you want to get involve, I won't get in the way but I won't stop the plan either.

Assuming you get there in time..
